

Curriculum for M.P.H. Global Health Concentration

Students enrolled in the Global Health Concentration must fulfill the requirements of their respective divisions or programs. In addition, the Global Health Concentration requires the student to complete the following courses. All “a” courses are offered in the fall term, and “b” courses are offered in the spring term.

Requirements

Completed?	CONCENTRATION REQUIREMENTS	Course Units
_____	HPA 591a, Global Health Systems	1
_____	CDE 591b, Epidemiology and Control of Disease in Low- and Middle Income Countries	1
_____	EPH 591 a and b, Seminar in Global Health (second year)	n/a
_____	EPH 520c, Summer Internship (must be global health-related)	n/a
_____	EPH 525, Thesis (must be global health-related) (required for students in all Divisions except HPA)	2

Two of the following eight:

_____	CDE 543a, Global Aspects of Food and Nutrition	1
_____	CDE 588a, Geography of Health and Disease in the Global Context	1
_____	EHS 590a, Public Health in China	1
_____	EMD 557b//NURS 713b, Public Health Issues in HIV/AIDS	1
_____	EMD 583b/, Public Health Surveillance	1
_____	HPA 585a, Comparative Health Care Systems	1
_____	HPA 588b, Health and Human Rights	1
_____	HPA 595b, Economic, Social, and Political Dimensions of Development	1